INJUNCTIONS FAIL TO PREVENT LOWER RATES

Justice Seabury Upholds New Law, Passed at Suggestion of Evening World, for Reducing Rates and Wiping Out Privileges.

HOTELS HAVE NO PROPERTY RIGHTS IN CITYS STREETS

Lawyers for Taxicab and Hotel Monopolies Say "The Decision Is as Bad as the 'Ordinance."

The Evening World has won its fight for the abolition of the illegal private hackstands and the reduction of the notoriously high fares charged by the taxicab monopolies of New York.

In a forty-page typewritten decision handed down this afternoon Justice Samuel Seabury of the Supreme Court vacates the injunctions MRS. RUPP QUITS asked by the taxicab monopolies and hotels, and declares that the new taxicab ordinance fathered by The Evening World is legal and binding. Under Justice Seabury's ruling the Mayor's Bureau of Licenses may begin immediately to enforce the provisions of the taxicab law, abolish all private hackstands and force the instant reduction of fares.

The gist of Justice Seabury's decision is contained in the final two paragraphs of his able decision, which read:

"The ordinance was not hastily adopted. Careful and thorough examination and investigation of the whole subject matter involved preceded the framing and adoption of the ordinance. Upon the hole the ordinance must be pronounced a serious and well considered attempt to remedy the abuses which have grown to such an extent as to make the application of a remedy imperative. "The motions are denied with costs, and the temporary injunctions heretofore granted are vacated and set aside."

The ordinance, known as "The Public Hack Ordinance," was passed by the Board of Aldermen on June 2, 1913, after a prolonged fight by The Evening World, during which it was shown that members of the Board of Aldermen had been wined and dined by the taxicab companies. Under its terms the ordinance became effective on Aug. 1, after it had been approved

SECURED INJUNCTIONS AT LAST MINUTE.

A day before it became operative the taxicab monopolies and hotels in the white light district procured from Justice Donnelly, in the Supreme Court, a temporary injunction against Mayor Gaynor, Chief of the Mayor's great stature but of large determina-Bureau of Licenses James G. Wallace jr. and Police Commissioner Rhine- tion. lander Waldo restraining them from enforcing the terms of the new law until the matter had been passed upon in the courts.

The case was first called before Justice Guy, who declined to sit because the law firm of which he had been a member was representing one of the taxicab companies. Justice Guy referred the case to Justice Scabury, despite the plea of the taxicab companies and hotels for delay. Assistant Corporation Counsel Terence Farley and George Nicholson represented the city in the protracted arguments before Justice Seabury.

In his decision, rendered this afternoon after he had left the city on his vacation. Justice Seabury calls attention to the fact that sixteen companies and hotels had procured these temporary injunctions, sixteen temporary restraining orders being issued. The plaintiffs in the cases were the Yellow Taxicab Company, the Hotel Astor, the Universal Taximeter Cab Company, the Hilliard Hotel Company, Motor Taximeter Cab Company, the Hotel Woodward, the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Company, Hawks & Wetherbee, the Forty-seventh Street Taxicab Company, the Garden Taxi Company, the New York Taxicab and Auto Company and Haverty's Taxicabs, Incorporated; Jennie E. Stafford, Greeley Square Hotel Company, the New Taximeter and Auto Company and the Riverside Taxi Service

JUSTICE SEABURY'S DECISION VERY PLAIN.

Justice Seabury, in the initial stages of his decision, points out the contentions of the taxicab companies and hotels that the ordinance is discriminatory, confiscatory and unconstitutional, and deals at length with Judge Orders Argument To-Morrow on Right to Further Detain the Prisoner, While Immigration Officials Await to Seize Him.

MAY FORCE SANITY TEST ON LEGAL TECHNICALITY

Arrest of Thompson, Who Aided Flight, Opens Way to Demand Proof Fugitive Is Lunatic.

SHERBROOKE, Canada, Aug. 20.-Judge Goblenski, in the Superior Court, granted counsel for Harry K. Thaw a writ of habeas corpus this afternoon, commanding his appearance in court to-morfow morning at 10 o'clock, when arguments will be heard on a motion to discharge him from custody forthwith on the ground that he is detained without warrant of law. Lawyers say that the contention of Thaw's attorneys is likely to be upheld by the court.

David Reynolds and T. B. Williams, special agents of the Immigration Bureau of the Dominion of Canada, are here, having arrived from Ottawa this morning. They say that if Thaw is discharged from the custody of the police they will immediately take possession of him as an undesirable alien and escort him to the border of the United States, in accordance with Canadian law.

But here arises a complication, in the arrest, shortly after noon, of "Educated Roger" Thompson, the New York chauffeur who drove the car in which Thaw escaped and accompanied Thaw to Canada.

Thompson is in fall, charged with assisting an undesirable alies to

GIVES THAW CHANCE TO PROVE SANITY.

The basis of Thaw's undestrability is the charge that he is thousand and Thaw's lawyers are preparing to turn to their own advantage the position of Thompson. Mr. Shurtleff of Thaw's counsel declared, when he heard of the charge against Thompson, that the establishment of Thew's insanity would be necessary to his conviction, for if Thaw is not inspecthen Thompson has committed no crime.

"They will have to establish that fact right here in the Canadian courts," declared Mr. Shurtleff. "Because Thaw has been adjudged income in New York is no proof that he is not perfectly same so far as Canada is concerned, and we are ready to prove that he is. They have opened up

Judge Globensky granted the writ of habous corpus in chambers, while a crowd that jammed the courtroom waited impatiently for developments. The crowd had been waiting all morning, for it had been reported that the noted New York slayer would appear in court at 9 c'cleak. However, the Crown authorities were not anxious to produce Thay to court. They knew that the commitment on which he was held was technically faulty, in that he was charged with being a fugitive from a New York insane asylum, where he was held on a criminal charge. There is no criminal charge against Thaw.

Crown Prosecutor Nicoll, not wishing to produce Thaw only to have him discharged offhand on an objection to the commitment, waited for the defense to make a move. Thaw's counsel, Mesers. White, Shurtles and 9 Fraser, conferred with him in his cell and looked over the ground carefully. It was only after long deliberation that they determined to apply for a habeas corpus writ.

until a bailiff appeared from the Judge's chambers and pronounced the adjournment of court. Loud and shrill notes of disappointment areas from the handsomely gowned women who had been waiting in a stilling atmosphere to see the slayer of Stanford White.

The attendance in court to-day indicates that the women of this part of Canada are taking an extraordinary interest in the case—not that the men are overlooking it. Business in the bustling little town of Sherbrooks is overshadowed by the court proceedings and many a household was lunciless at noon because the women folk were besieging the courthouse.

In case the question of Thaw's sanity can be brought up by develop-ments in Thompson's case it means that the insanity hearing will be held here in Sherbrooke. That will mean an influx of lawyers and alienists and a long drawn out proceeding, which Sherbrooke contemplates with no small Eighty-third street and Wadsworth Byrne.
